

“A town of the Iceni”: 10 years of research at Venta Icenorum

14th January 2017 – Thomas Paine Study Centre – UEA Norwich

Draft Programme

9.50: Welcome – W. Bowden

10.00: The changing view of Venta Icenorum – W. Bowden

10.25: Caistor from the air: the work of the National Mapping Programme – Sarah Horlock

10.50: 'The geophysical surveys: Mapping cultural and environmental remains at Caistor St Edmund'
– Dave Bescoby

11.15: coffee

11.35: Animals and people at Venta Icenorum – Matilda Holmes

12.00: Stories from the bones: examination of the human remains from Caistor – Hannah O'Regan

12.25: “Oh! You Pretty Things”: personal adornment and identity at Venta Icenorum – Natasha Harlow

1.00: An overview of the Caistor Roman pottery: what does it tell us about life in the Roman town? – Alice Lyons

1.25: Lunch

2.05: Samian pottery at Venta Icenorum – Gwladys Monteil

2.30: Glass finds at Caistor Roman Town - a consumer market or something more – Harriet Foster

2.55: Saxon Caistor - the ceramic evidence– Sue Anderson

3.20: tea

3.40: Afterlife: Anglo-Saxon Caistor - Tim Pestell

4.05: Caistor Roman Project in the community and future plans - Mike Pinner

4.30: Discussion and Conclusion – David Gurney

5.00: Close